

I retired on my 32nd service anniversary in 2010 and live on Chemong Lake about 5 km south of Bridgenorth. I spent all of my career in Toronto with my first three years at 393 University in clerical then sixteen years at 88 Sunrise Avenue; first with Bell's Cable TV group then thirteen years as a Cable Locator. My last thirteen years I was at 831 Progress Avenue as a DaVaR (Data Verification and Reporting) testing technician. With my wife having passed just before Christmas, I, and my two cats, are getting used to single life again. My hobbies are amateur astronomy and amateur (ham) radio.
